

MINERS STOP WORK AT SIX
MINES OVER NEW WAGE SCALEWage Statements Bring Controversy in Pittsburgh
Coal Operations

BASIS OF PAY IS EXPLAINED

Miners Claim There Has Been Discrimination—Operations Maintain There Has Been No Reduction of Pay, Though Same Wages Remain Unchanged.

Six mines of the Pittsburgh Coal company are suspended along the Monongahela valley temporarily pending an adjustment of the run of mine wage scale, following objections filed by miners when statements were issued Thursday and Friday. The mines are the Alice, Apollo, Fayette City, Knob, Sunnyside and Gallatin.

It is claimed by the miners that when their wage statements were issued in the new run of mine basis of pay, an inconsistency showed. The inconsistency, as they view it relates to the rate of pay as applied to a certain class of miners, chiefly outside men. It is asserted that an increase is paid some, in accordance with the April 1 agreement and that there is a reduction for others.

By an up-river official it is explained that by the new basis of pay there is really no deduction, but as things work out the pay of some miners remain the same.

It is anticipated that an adjustment will be reached within the course of a few days and the miners return to work again. Some trouble was naturally expected in installing the run of mine system of pay and it was to avoid this that 90 days time was asked for arranging the system. In some mines this was allowed, but in others it is being worked out now.

"TEENERS" HEAR REV. HOGG
PREACH ON "THE ATONEMENT"

A large audience, many of whom were of the "teen age" were present Friday evening to hear Rev. William Hogg preach an interesting and practical sermon on "The Atonement." The singing was spirited and a large choir rendered special music.

Sunday will close a series of special services. An effort will be made in the Sunday school service to bring many young people to a decision for Christ. The pastor will preach a sermon at 10:45 appropriate to Easter and a special self-denial offering for missions will be lifted. Two adult bible class delegations will feature the evening service, the Good Will Bible class of young men taught by W. D. Pollock and the Men's Bible class of the Speers' M. E. church.

BIBLES COSTING MORE;
WAR SUPPLY EXHAUSTED

The advancing cost of paper, ink leather and glue has shot skyward the prices of Bibles, as well as other books. The American Bible society announces that the stock of Bibles in European languages imported from Germany prior to the beginning of the war is now approaching exhaustion and the society does not know when it can be replenished.

EGGS PRICES DROP TO 25 CENTS;
WILL GO FURTHER AFTER EASTERNo Shortage Now, Dealers State.
Hens Having Done Right by Us—
Prices Lowest in Years

Following the unprecedented production by the hens of Western Pennsylvania eggs are selling in the Pittsburgh markets at 25 cents a dozen, the lowest price known at Easter in many years.

It is stated that the unlooked for output of the hens was caused by the favorable weather of the last six weeks. The output has been so great, the dealers state, that were it not for Easter demand eggs would be down to 20 cents a dozen. The price will drop after Easter it is predicted.

BENTLEYVILLE TO ERECT A SCHOOLEight-Room Brick Edifice
Planned by Directors for
Pigeon Creek Town

SITE IS PRACTICALLY SELECTED

At a special meeting of the school board at Bentleyville a location for a new school building was decided upon and plans for the erection of an eight room brick structure were approved.

W. J. Wilson and I. B. Richardson who had been appointed to look into the matter, reported that four sites had been examined and prices obtained upon each. After much discussion it was unanimously determined to purchase the property of Mrs. French at the corner of North Main street and Pittsburgh road. The lot runs back across an alley approximately 240 feet and will make an ideal location for a school.

It is the intention of the board to sell the building at Acme and erect a modern eight room brick building on the French property. The work will be pushed so that the new school will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the term in the fall.

There has been considerable discussion over the project and at one time one of the members of the board resigned and court had to appoint his successor. The present board consists of Dr. A. N. Booth, president; I. B. Richardson, vice president; W. J. Wilson, secretary; S. J. Caldwell, treasurer and R. A. Johnston.

WASHINGTON MAN TO DEMONSTRATE ATTACK

DeLloyd Thompson to Descend Upon Philadelphia, Similarly to the Way in Which He Descended During Week on New York

A streak of fire, a sheet of flame and an ear-splitting explosion, intermingled with the roar of propellers. That is all that will herald the bombardment of Philadelphia by an airplane in the near future by De Lloyd Thompson, the daring aviator, whose home is in Washington, the county seat and who reduced New York from the air Wednesday night before even the authorities were aware that he had appeared.

No one will know when the aircraft is to come to Philadelphia. Like a thief in the night he will slip out of his hangar on Governor's Island make a dash for the city and while the inhabitants still are asleep will rain high explosive shells upon it. His purpose is to show the ease with which the city could be pelted with destructive bombs.

It took Thompson but fourteen minutes to demonstrate how an aircraft could crush the most important buildings of lower Manhattan, thus leaving the city virtually wrecked. He had been supposed to make the flight at 7 o'clock but when the authorities failed to issue a permit he slipped away without their knowledge until his first bomb, with a crash that brought the crowds on Broadway to a standstill, burst over the Woolworth building. Bathed in a sheet of flame the great, white and gold structure seemed to tremble, bend slowly towards the street and then, like a piece of paper crumpled to the crowded pavement—the tomb for thousands of non-combatants.

That he will come to Philadelphia unheralded was announced by Clarence P. Wynne of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania. In the same way he attacked the big buildings of New York he will descend upon the City Hall, the Land Title Building, the Widener Building, Bellevue-Stratford and other large structures in this city.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR "COUNTY FAIR" AT CHURCH

The social committee of the Senior Christian Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church is making elaborate preparations for a "country fair" to be held Thursday evening April 27, in the church. There will be such interesting features as a "better babies" contest to be judged by Dr. H. J. Repman, Messrs W. C. Clark and Ben Owens, a poultry show in care of Miss Mabel Orange and a photograph gallery operated by Miss Edith Hopkins. Among the prizes offered are those for the largest family present, the best fiddler, and every pair of twins. There will be a declamatory contest open to little girls and boys under 12 and singing for persons over 12. Dr. H. J. Repman, Dr. J. K. Smith and Dr. J. W. Hunter will each give three-minute speeches on timely topics appropriate to the occasion of a country fair. The contest lists will remain open until the hour for the fair to begin.

TOMMY O'ROURKE AND DICK
DE SANDERS PRIMED FOR BOUT

Both Tommy O'Rourke and Dick DeSanders will have a group of fans with them tonight when they meet in the rink at the Charleroi Boxing Club's show at the rink. That their bout will be a hard one goes without question. Both men have been diligently working in an effort to put themselves in first-class condition for their meeting and the mill will be one calculated to please.

The preliminaries are of such nature as to attract attention. Young Sharkey and Joe Lup of the Pittsburgh district will come together in the semi final. In the first show Homer McDermott of New Eagle and Tony French of Charleroi will battle only in the opener will appear Young Pincho of Charleroi and Kid Aleck of Dunlevy.

year was appointed by the president, the committee to consist of Mrs. Edwin McKay, Mrs. V. P. Stewart, Mrs. J. Clive Enos and Mrs. C. S. Van Voorhis.

PASSION WEEK OBSERVED AT WASHINGTON AVENUE CHURCH

Services in keeping with the Easter season have been much enjoyed by the many who have attended the Washington Avenue church during the last week. The incidents in the life of the Lord during His last week have been gone over minutely and portrayed in graphic fashion. Last evening scenes in Passion week were studied in the great paintings such as Hoffman's "Christ in Gethsemane," "The Last Supper" by Von Gebhard and "The Return From Calvary" by Schmalz. A sunrise prayer meeting has been arranged for Easter morning and at the morning preaching hour the choir will render the classic "Fear Not Ye." In the evening the annual musical program will be given under the direction of John F. Bowman. Elaborate decorations have been planned by the sewing circle of the church.

CHARLEROI TENOR IS SOLOIST FOR CANTATA

Chester C. Humphries Assists in Rendition At Shadyside Presbyterian Church at Pittsburgh

Chester C. Humphries the well known Charleroi tenor was the tenor soloist for the cantata "From Oliver to Calvary," Shadyside which was given at the Shadyside Presbyterian church Friday evening. The Shadyside choir is composed of Miss Mary E. Reznor, soprano; Miss Rose Leader, contralto; Chester C. Humphries, tenor and I. Kay Myers, baritone. They were assisted by Miss Lucille Terrell of the Sixth U. P. church; Miss Helen Heimer of the East Liberty Presbyterian church; Walker Earnest of the East Liberty Presbyterian church and John R. Roberts of the Third Presbyterian church. Mr. Humphries was in good voice and was highly commended for his work. Mrs. Humphries, Miss Isabelle Dorbritz and Joseph Pearson of Charleroi attended the service.

Solemn Services Arranged
in Commemoration of Resurrection of Christ

MUSICAL FEATURES PLANNED

Resurrection Sermons to be Preached —Weather Predictions Fair and
Cool—Easter Millinery to Be Out
In Full Variety.

In Easter day one of the most glorious religious festivals of the year will be observed tomorrow in the churches of Charleroi and in all churches of Christendom in commemoration of the resurrection of Christ. In all local churches elaborate programs have been arranged. Special Easter music and special Easter sermons will feature the general observance.

Representing as it does hope to Christendom the date emphasizes the beginning of spring from a millinery point of view. Easter comes late this year, but it will be all the more conspicuous because of the finery it will bring out, of course, in the event of good weather. The weather prediction is for cool weather and fair.

The eastertide observance virtually started on Holy Thursday, though most churches observed in some manner the entire Passion week. Solemn services were held on both Thursday and Friday and at some churches this morning also, leading up to the Easter celebration.

All churches have prepared special musical programs. Among the most elaborate celebrations will be at St. Jerome's Catholic church where the resurrection will be celebrated with mass at 7:30, 9 and 10:30 in the morning. At the 10:30 o'clock mass a male choir under direction of Edward Wheeler will render music. At the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening a cantata will be rendered and the annual Easter classic musical program will be given Sunday evening at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Special music will feature the Methodist Episcopal church program. The same will apply at Christ Lutheran church where senior and junior choirs will sing. At the First Christian church Easter anthems will be sung. A good program Continued on Page three.

MEXICO AND PRESIDENTS

A writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger writing of the present situation in Mexico points out the fact that just seventy years ago this month General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, Zachary Taylor to take the American army of Mexico. So the Old Rough and Ready refused to and the war with Mexico began.

The first real battle was fought at Palo Alto early in May, when 2,000 "gringos," as the Mexicans contemptuously call us, easily routed 6,000 "greasers," as our western brethren term the Mexicans.

Wellington said Napoleon was worth 40,000 soldiers, or about 40 per cent of what was then a gigantic army. In the Mexican war one American soldier was equal to three of the enemy.

It took Taylor and 6,000 men but three days to storm and capture Monterey, which was strongly fortified and garrisoned by 9,000 Mexicans.

General Winfield Scott had equally good luck on his memorable march from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico. At Cherusco he killed, wounded or captured 7,000 of the enemy and lost only 1,100 Americans.

Military men of high rank are our authority for saying that if the United States now goes to war with Mexico there will be a practical duplication of the other war in the matter of attack.

Our army would operate from the Rio Grande as Taylor's army did, while another would land as Scott's did at Vera Cruz and march upon the Mexican capital.

It took Scott only six months to travel that road, and during three of those months his army rested in the city of Puebla. Among the gallant young officers who made that historic trip were Robert E. Lee, Thomas J. Jackson and U. S. Grant.

Meade, McClellan and Hancock—three Pennsylvanians who were to shine in another war—helped in that conquest of Mexico.

It happened seventy years ago as in every other important war the United States has fought that more of our troops perished from disease than were killed by the enemy's bullets.

With one hundred thousand physicians now in this country, repetition of such an ignominious record could only be possible through incompetency at Washington.

A great crop of United States Presidents and presidential candidates came out of the war with Mexico.

General Taylor went directly from his battlefields to the White House.

Franklin Pierce, who was a brigadier general under Scott, followed Taylor to Washington four years later. Scott himself was a conspicuous candidate.

In 1856 General John C. Fremont was the Republican party's first nominee for President in a campaign where the familiar slogan rang, "Free soil, free men, free speech, Fremont."

That was didn't exactly mean Grant, McClellan and Hancock, but all three afterward became the party's nominees for president.

Presidential lightening bolts to strike at brass buttons.

THE END OF THE WAR

The probable duration of the war is an interesting problem. The war will certainly bring great changes, will affect the fortunes of many, work or money is connected with war orders. It will bring to the new problems of re-adjustment of many sorts. It will affect in some way or other nearly all of us, says the Punxsutawney Spirit.

What are the chances of the war ending this year? Very good, according to the strategists and also according to the extremely practical insurance men.

Lloyd's, the great British insurance company, has been a conservative, nothing but those who are all-wise in the art of careful calculation charges 70 per cent for insuring a man against losses that will be incurred if the war ends suddenly before the close of the year. Such a rate may be expressed in other terms, in terms, as severe as three that the war will end before the year is out. Some insurance firms are said to be asking 90 per cent for similar insurances, which may be taken to mean that it's ten to one the war ends this year.

facturers in preparing plants to supply manufactured gas, is evidence that it will not be long until the natural flow in western Pennsylvania will be reversed. Gas like coal is not limitless. Coal is being worked out and so is gas. We haven't tried to conserve either, save where a few, looking far ahead have tucked away a few tracts of land here and there. Obviously this conservation idea, such as it is, has applied more to coal than to gas. The latter natural product appeared in such quantities that we accepted as fact that there would never be a working out. Now our bump of knowledge is being developed. In eastern cities they have been manufacturing gas, for these long years, and selling it too at prices three times what western Pennsylvanians pay. They conserve their resources there. There is silver lining, however. If the big manufacturers decide to manufacture their own gas, something toward which they are now proceeding, all the gas remaining can be stored up for private consumption. With that it will outlast the most of us.

A river appears to be quite a costly stream to keep in shape, especially when its channel has to be prevented from sideswiping a town off the map. Students tell us that the Monongahela used to have a course a mile or more away from where it is now, but that doesn't lessen West Brownsville's annoyance. The secret is that the Monongahela has long seemed obsessed with a desire to change its own course at the Brownsvilles and has worked at the idea so insistently that it has compelled the closing of one West Brownsville street. The situation has become serious so serious in fact that a convention of western Pennsylvania congressmen has been asked at the West Brownsville river bank by the West Brownsville council for the purpose of correcting the river's mistake. Building an occasional lock and fixing a dam substantially in place isn't the whole thing in tending a river, as the rivers and harbors committee know to their sorrow.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Here, boy!" called the office to the new hand, who seemed very green. "Run over to Nos. 3 and 4 and get five cents worth of 'one-cent' milk." The boy's face was white as he brought the change back to him and he said, "About it."

The boy set out, but he did not return for some time, and when he did get back the chief partner was having some trouble with a girl. But the boy knew nothing of office etiquette, so he stepped between Reggie and the "boss" and produced a live pigeon.

"Here you are," he said. "Mr. Nibs says you can milk the bird yourself. And there ain't no change."

Billy, aged 4, greeted his mother at the door with the confession that he had done precisely what she had told him not to do. His mother was in doubt as to the exact punishment merited, the confession deserved praise, but there was no excuse for the disobedience. To gain time she sent him into the next room to think over what he believed ought to be done.

Presently the little fellow returned and said very seriously, "Mother, you can do what you want, but on Sunday school they teach us to forgive."

Needless to say, he escaped punishment.—Harper's Weekly.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Pittsburg lost its first home game and the electric has been properly placed, belonging to all mankind, past, present and future.

Henry Ford is a sure enough candidate for president. This is not a Ford joke.

Of course every man living feels within himself that he could settle that German squabble much better than President Wilson.

On the theory that they would rather be going up than going down most people doubtless would prefer the aviation service to the submarine.

Some men are even willing to believe a notorious liar if he tells them the things they want to hear.

There isn't a bit of romance about a censored tale.

Villa "was" a picturesque banlieue. He "is" a picturesque runner.

Statistics are said to show that 95 per cent of men engaged in manufacturing, industrial and commercial pursuits in the United States fail. On the other hand, the total earnings of the average man in this country are said to be $1,000 a year. Moral: Trade—Exchange.

TRADING BITES SPREADS DISEASE

"Please give me a bite."
"All right, just one."
"Well, don't be a stingy; save me the core."
"There isn't going to be a core."

This dialogue is rehearsed with variations in practically every schoolhouse almost every day. The habit of trading bites and lunches is well-nigh universal with schoolchildren. It is fraught with danger, however, in a great many instances and they should be instructed to divide their good things in such a way that there is no danger.

The apparently mild case of sore throat, or one that has not grown to be sufficiently severe to bring it to the attention of the parents or teachers, may forecast diphtheria or something as serious. This is one of the ways in which it can readily be transmitted and spread through school with alarming rapidity. The children themselves are quick enough to learn if their teachers will point this out.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon states that the statistics of the State Department of Health show that certain communicable diseases increase with astonishing rapidity with the opening of school in the fall and continue until the schools close. This is, to a certain extent, due to failure to observe such precautions as that above mentioned. Teach your children for their own safety and that of their playmates. Proper instructions will save much suffering and thousands of lives.

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. An Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Charleroi. No Charleroi resident who suffers backache or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this three-fold testimony.

Mrs. Robert Coulter, 500 Third Street, Charleroi, says: "One of the family had the measles when five years old which left weak kidneys. The trouble was most distressing at night and there seemed to be an inability to control the kidney secretions. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and was induced to get a supply at Piper Bros' Drug Store. The one who used this medicine was soon benefited and I have hopes of a permanent cure."

Her Hopes Realized.

On January 20, 1914 Mrs. Coulter said: "I willingly confirm the statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills, made a cure for one of our family."

FLOWERS HAVE FOOD VALUE

Scientific Men Have Proved That a Great Many of Them Are Edible and Delicious.

The food of flowers is a matter just beginning to interest the scientific world. Violets are said to contain considerable nourishment. They possess the basis of a refreshing drink, and in other forms figured conspicuously in the feasts of the ancient Persians. The modern confectioner has crystallized them in sugar.

The old Turkish confections made of rose leaves are declared delicious by those who have eaten them. A number of cooks have discovered that a handful of rose petals imparts a flavor of unparalleled delicacy to the arts of many kinds.

For those who do not care for sweets, the gay-colored pasteurized rose is highly to be valued. It may be used as a filling for sandwiches, mixed judiciously with other materials in salad. Its delicious pungency appeals to the epicure, while physicians say it aids digestion.

A favorite Italian dish consists of fried squash blossoms. When properly prepared this food is both appetizing and nourishing. The yellow blossoms of the common field pumpkin may be cooked in the same way, and to some tastes are even more pleasing.

DECLINE IN FRENCH POETRY

Prose Has Superseded It in the Favor of the People, Is an Opinion Given.

It is a fact that the French mind uses prose as its readier instrument, and it is also a fact that at this present moment, when the French spirit reasserts itself, poetry is far in the background compared with what it was at the beginning of Romanticism, when Hugo, Lamartine, Musset and Vigny occupied the front part of the stage.

There are more poets than there were at any period of French literature, and their average work is superior to what it was in the nineteenth century; but poetry is not popular, and the best known poets, the most successful—say, Henri de Regnier and the Comtesse de Noailles—do not reach the twentieth part of Victor Hugo's public.

COLORS CROSS IN SKY.

There was considerable excitement about this section all day over the appearance in the western sky of a rainbow-colored cross, and Bible students have been searching for something that would enlighten them on the matter. The Book of Revelation has been scanned and ministers called up, but up to this time the sign has not been interpreted satisfactorily.

The superstitious naturally foresee continued wars all over the world, and, within 1,000 years, the end of the world. Those who saw it, as the sun came up, say it was a perfect cross of brilliant colors.—Woodbury (N. J.) Dispatch Philadelphia Record.

TOO DEEP FOR HIM.

"No," murmured the man who occasionally lets out an audible thought, "I can't understand it." "Can't understand what?" queried the party who had overheard. "Why a woman will weep at the imaginary woes of a stage hero and laugh at the real woes of her husband," explained he of the noisy thoughts.

IMPOLITE GEORGE.

Caller—That's a very good cake, my dear; did you make it yourself? Hostess—No, I didn't, and I'm never going to make another cake. George was perfectly horrid about the last one. He broke a tooth over it, and said I ought to be making munitions.

MUCH THE SAME.

"My life," said her husband, "is like an open book." "That's right," replied his wife, "I can only see two pages at once."

OH, PIFFLE!

"What is woman's mission in life?" asked the suffragette. "Sub-mission," growled the scanty-haired bachelor in reply.

GINGLES' JINGLES

SHE WINS.

I've bought a nice new suit of clothes, to please you I am bound; more class I do not think there could within the burg be found. The lines are right, they fit exact. The clothier says, "they're neat," he says, "the cloth is dandy, at the price could not be beat." I thought I'd make you proud of me, I thought I'd make you glad, since such a classy suit as this could at a price be had; there's no one need be shy on dress, we all can step a few; believe me, wife, I've done all this for you—for only you. What's that you say? "They're ancient stuff? They're bargain-counter junk? They make me look by far too old—a has-been from Podunk?" You say, "I'll grow old fast enough without this kind of dress, that I should take on younger togs, and make my years look less?" You win, I'll do that start for you, and beat it from the rut; you play the fiddle, I shall dance—dress young and be "some kint." —Linn H. Jingles

MARITAL HINT.

He—I see where the government wants women to save their rags. She—Well, if the government only takes a look at the clothes I have to wear, it can see one woman's doing it.

TREATING A FAVORITE 'AS SUCH.

"You haven't been heard yet on your favorite topic." "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "I think too much of that topic to risk making it unpopular by bringing it up at the wrong time."

AWFUL.

Rix—I've smoked an awful lot of cigars lately. Dix—You're right, if that one you're smoking now is a sample.

EAST CLAIMS BIGGEST CAT

Brownie Corriveau of Roxbury, Mass. Woman, Weighs Forty Pounds.

Brownie is supposed to be the biggest cat house cat in New England. Brownie weighs forty pounds and he is as big as a man round the waist, that is, he's as big as some men and a whole lot bigger than the ordinary cat. Brownie's exact waist measure is thirty inches, and within that vast feline circumference beats a great feline heart that is true blue to Mrs. Alice Corriveau of Roxbury.

Brownie is a coon cat and his tremendous avoirdupois was not built up on too much food. He eats lightly twice a day with a drink of warmed milk night and morning. He refuses cold milk or water.

This winter while his mistress was visiting several weeks in New York, Brownie boarded at the Angell Memorial Animal hospital of the S. P. C. A. Mrs. Marion P. Frost, who has charge of the pets' boarding department of the hospital, says Brownie is positively the biggest cat she has ever seen—and one of the best.

Mrs. Corriveau intends to enter her Brownie, who is nine years old, in the next cat show in Boston. If they have any heavyweight class in a cat show, the management might just as well mail the blue ribbon to Brownie Corriveau now and have that much off their minds.—Boston Globe.

COULDN'T STAND THAT.

Sir Vezev Strong, who presides over the city tribunal which hears the appeals of men called up under the military service act, told me an amusing story the other day about a man who claimed total exemption on the ground of conscientious objections to fighting and killing. The man was passed for noncombatant service only. Next day this same man appeared before Sir Thomas in the magistrate's court, brought up on a charge of assault.

"So you have assaulted this man?" said Sir Thomas, after the prisoner had pleaded guilty. "Yes," replied the conscientious objector. Sir Thomas—"But I thought you had conscientious scruples against fighting?" C. O.—"I have." Sir Thomas—"Why, then, did you attack him?" C. O. (indignantly)—"Why, he tried to take ten shillings from me!"—London Mail.

SADLY DELUDED.

"A man who was run down by a motorist the other day had a copy of Plato in his pocket."

"One of those absent-minded dreamers, I suppose?"

"Well, no. He said an acquaintance had played a practical joke on him and induced him to take the book home under the impression that it was one of the 'best sellers.'"

INHERITED.

Mrs. Biggs—There goes Mrs. Upson. She certainly has a graceful carriage.

Mrs. Diggs—Yes; she must have inherited it from her grandfather.

Mrs. Biggs—Was his carriage graceful?

Mrs. Diggs—So I have been told. He used to carry a hod.

PALMER-HILL NUPTIALS OCCUR THIS MORNING

Ceremony Performed by Dr. W. G. Mead Uniting Lives of Well Known Young Couple—Leave on Wedding Trip To Niagara Falls.

At the hour of 10 this morning at the home of the bride's parents at 407 Meadlow avenue occurred the wedding of Miss Ora Christian Hill to Carl Cleveland Palmer of Monessen. The pretty ring ceremony was solemnized by Dr. W. G. Mead, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of the family group and several intimate friends of the couple. After a sumptuous wedding dinner was served and the couple left on a wedding tour to Niagara Falls. After spending their honeymoon there the couple will return to Charleroi where for the present they will make their home with the bride's parents. The bride was dressed in white for the occasion, the prevailing colors being pink and white. The bride was attired charmingly in a white traveling suit and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by Miss Millie Palmer of New Salem as bridesmaid who carried a pink bouquet of roses. The groom was attended by Wilbur Colvin of California, a cousin of the bride. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Mrs. Fred Hill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hill. The groom's home originally was in Redstone, where he taught school. Lately he has been located in Monessen.

MARY PICKFORD BOOKED TWO DAYS AT THE COYLE

In a great program of dramas at the Coyle theatre next week the featuring attraction will be that Thursday and Friday of the justly famous Mary Pickford in one of her greatest characterizations, "Poor Little Peppina." The film has been secured for the two days on account of the big demand and the date has been changed. This production is extraordinary. "The Ne'er-do-Wells," which had a long run at the Pitt theatre in Pittsburgh is booked for May 5. The Monday attraction at the Coyle is the Fox production of "Slander," with Bertha Kalich and on Tuesday the Paramount picture, "To Have and to Hold."

TRI-CITIES WATER COMPANY DEFENDS SUITS FOR DAMAGES

The Tri-Cities Water company of Charleroi, in its affidavit of defense denies the right of Marie Danesi for damages, as she avers. She asks $10,000 for alleged injury to her property caused by the alleged bursting of a water main. She also averred the water flooded her home while she was in a delicate condition, resulting in serious personal damage. The water company denies that on the date averred or at any other time did its main as a result of a defective condition, burst or that it was improperly constructed and broke due to high pressure of water. It is denied the plaintiff suffered the injury she complains of.

WORTH CULTIVATING.

"Are your new neighbors the kind of people you care to associate with?"

"Well, rather! They own three motor cars."

DESERVES THE TITLE.

"Why do you call Mrs. Twobble a superwoman?"

"When she says, 'Wait a minute,' she means approximately sixty seconds."

A TIFF.

Newwed—It is hard to ask for bread and get a stone.

Mrs. Newwed—It is worse to ask for a stone and get paste.

AS EXPLAINED.

Mrs. Wags—Does your husband suffer from chronic thirst?

Mrs. Jags—I should say not. He doesn't wait long enough.

NATURALLY.

"Our man is promised the support of all the fraternal orders."

"Of course, he must be the logical candidate."

THE PUZZLE.

"The De Smythes are going to give a big blowout."

"How do they manage to raise the wind?"

USEFUL IN MEDICAL WORK

Fluid That Makes the Body Transparent is a Discovery Considered of Great Value.

A new method of giving medical students instruction which, it is said, will largely obviate the necessity of dissection, will be put into practice at the Hahnemann Medical college, Philadelphia, at the beginning of the next term.

Physicians and surgeons connected with the department of anatomy are now perfecting the process, which originates through the recent discovery of a French scientist of a fluid in the use of which the human body becomes red transparent.

The fluid, which is composed of several salts, turns the flesh into a sort of transparent jelly when injected, enabling the student to study the veins, nerves, and bones far better. It is asserted, then, if they resorted to the use of this fluid, it is said to be one of the most valuable discoveries in the field of science of late years.

MUCH COTTON IN BIG SHELLS

Enormous Amount of Material is Needed in the Operation of European Belligerents.

Every shot fired from one of the fifteen-inch guns of the British battleship Queen Elizabeth, or one of the German or Austrian seventeen-inch mortars, means the expenditure of 400 pounds of raw cotton. Cotton is one of the basic ingredients of all high explosives. No substitute can or has been found, although German chemists are exerting the utmost of their ingenuity to provide something that will take the place of the cotton boll.

It has been estimated that 1,000 tons of raw cotton are shot away every day in the world war by the German and Austrian armies. The charge for a German seventeen-inch howitzer shell, 400 pounds, would provide ammunition for 400 shots from a field gun or 80,000 rounds from an army rifle.

"MOVIES" FOR LECTURES.

In illustrating a lecture in which armor plate and armor piercing projectiles were discussed not long ago at the British Institution of Mechanical Engineers, an interesting employment was made of motion pictures.

A number of drawings in which a shell was shown leaving a gun, hitting a plate of armor, the cap then breaking into pieces, the projectile passing through the metal protection and subsequently detonating, were filmed.

The picture when projected on a screen showed graphically what original photographs could not have portrayed. The drawings had been carefully executed and the resulting effect was good.

CRUSHED AGAIN.

Softleigh—Youah wemark was—aw—vewy appropviate, Miss Cutting. I shall—aw—make a note of it in me mind, doncher know.

Miss Cutting—Oh, very well. You'll have plenty of blank space in which to make the note, I'm sure.

REALISM.

"Do you believe in realism in the theater?"

"Yes," replied the manager. "I don't care for it so much on the stage, but getting real money in the box office is a great trick if you can do it."

THE WAR CENSUS.

Magistrate—But what caused the quarrel between you and your wife?

Complainant—I put her down as a dependent of mine, sir.—Sydney Bulletin.

MERELY A HINT.

He (as the clock strikes 12)—This is the hour that graveyards yawn.

She (wearily)—Well, they certainly have my sympathy.

THE WAY OF IT.

Knicker—The poet says heaven lies about us in our infancy.

Bocker—Well, every one else lies about us afterward.

QUITE NATURAL.

"Your friend has a very peculiar gait."

"It ought to be a very natural one. He is always on the fence."
